

Lineworkers Complete Training

Supervisor Training

Navarro County Electric Cooperative congratulates Matt Cunningham, left, and Jerad Taylor for completing supervisor training. We also would like to congratulate Taylor on being promoted to overhead line crew foreman.

Apprenticeship

Navarro County EC congratulates Jesse Huffman and Alex Mendez for completing Level 4 apprenticeships. This step is the last in the apprenticeship program. Huffman and Mendez soon will earn the position of lineman and continue to help provide reliable and affordable electric service to our members.

Happy Thanksgiving

We wish you and yours a wonderful Thanksgiving. In observance of the holiday, our offices will be closed Thursday–Friday, November 22–23.

McCluney Retires After 40 Years

THE LIFE OF A LINEMAN IS NOT FOR everyone, but Marshall McCluney loved his job. McCluney started his career at Navarro County Electric Cooperative in 1978 as an apprentice and within a few years graduated to a lineman position working in operations and construction. For the past several years, he served as foreman of our overhead construction crew. McCluney retires after 40 years of dedicated service and is looking forward to having more time to golf, hunt and spend with his grandchildren.

Which Would You Rather Do Without: Lunch Out or Electricity for a Day?

For about the cost of lunch at your favorite restaurant, most of our members get a day's worth of the convenience and comfort electricity provides: heating, hot water, entertainment, clean clothes, lights and home-cooked meals.

Electricity—it's still a great value.
